Transition of Year 8 students from a rural primary setting to an Urban Secondary School.

Brenda Leigh
Principal, Hiwinui School, Palmerston North
Term 3, 2013
Purpose:

Students in Year 8 at Hiwinui School transition to many secondary schools both within the Manawatu Catchments and beyond.

They transition to single sex, co-educational, religion based and private secondary schools.

Ages twelve and thirteen can be extremely challenging for many of our young people. Not only are they facing the increased social, emotional and physiological changes of adolescence; for many they are about to change schools for the first time in eight years.

It is my desire therefore to investigate the differences in expectations and identified transition issues between primary and secondary schools, and how rural schools are successfully transitioning students and minimising the impact of different expectations.

For this study I have interviewed students that were in year 8 at Hiwinui School in 2012 and are now at secondary school. The students voice is extremely powerful and the honesty and the maturity of the students telling their stories was a delight to hear.

I also met with a number of primary colleagues and secondary colleagues. The primary colleagues had a similar interest in transition and spoke about what they were doing in their particular setting. The secondary teachers were Year 9 Deans, Assistant and Deputy Principals or SENCOS. These people talked honestly about what they were finding and were eager to hear how the primary schools were trying to make the transition smoother.

During your Year 8 year at Hiwinui School how were you prepared for Secondary School?

Having a secondary school teacher teach us for some maths lessons was really great. This helped us with the maths language used at secondary school and showed us that there are many words which mean the same thing in maths and also some mathematic rules that you need to know. Having a secondary teacher coming in and talking about College Deans and Homerooms etc,

Flexi-Lit allowed us to develop good time management strategies.

Our leadership opportunities – like; Running Assemblies, Sports Activities, Leavers Dinner, Tennis Tournaments, Discos and Movie Nights.

Building Personal Confidence – this resulted from the leadership opportunities and gave you the confident to speak up.

The variety of Sport and Physical Activity opportunities we were given.

Speech Presentations begin compulsory.

The opportunity to debate.

Extension programmes like philosophy, Spanish, guitar and drums.

Doing the ICAS English and Maths Tests.

Participating in the Otago Problem Solving Challenge.

Doing the IKANS and GLOSS tests as our teacher really knew what we did or didn’t know.

If we wanted to do something we were able to ask and it happened and sometimes we learnt by our mistakes and sometimes by our successes.

Going to technology at Monrad Intermediate gave us the opportunity to change teachers and also work with students from other schools.

Going to the different Kainui events: sporting and cultural.

The Young Leaders Day.

Learning to Learn – made us enquiring learners.

How do you think we could have better prepared you for secondary school?

More homework – on a daily basis.

Science – it is hard because we don’t have science labs at primary schools.

Science language – biology, cell division, hypotheses.

Make sure that the maths units align with the secondary topics taught and to try and use the words the secondary school does. Work from a text book like secondary schools.

Social Skills - Work on how to choose good friends.

Cultures – Because Hiwinui is a monoculture school we need to learn about other cultures.

Time management and organisational skills.

Have your friends at secondary school ever talked about things that

The Voice of the Secondary Schools.

5 Secondary Schools Represented.

| Do students from rural primary schools stand more than their city peers as having needs on arrival at secondary school? |
| No, if anything the rural students are not an issue |
| They aren’t late because they usually come by bus |
| They don’t tend to have trouble mixing with others |

| What are the things that Year 9 students struggle with most on arrival at secondary school? |
| The immaturity of some boys |
| Parents not letting go and letting the students take responsibility for themselves |
| Parents trying to fight their child’s battles |
| Relationships – making good choices, making friends |
| Self management - getting from one place to the other with the correct equipment |
| Time management – getting to school on time and making sure that everything is ready for that day |
| Organisation skills – homework is done on time. The correct gear is packed and organising lockers / bags and food |
| Also getting used to the fact that you go to the toilet at interval not during class |

| Are there trends that you see coming through with the Year 9 students that you believe the primary schools should be addressing? |
| Students being able to manage their time and organise themselves for the day. |
| The language of curriculum subjects |
| Vocabulary of students is poor |
| Students inability to write a well structured paragraph |

The aim of transitioning students to the secondary school of their choice at Hiwinui School is to:
Transition students socially, emotionally, academically and physically to the best of our ability.

Careful planning is required in order that this transition takes place over a period of time:

1. Transition will be different for each child – some will require more support than others
2. The key to a quality transition is developing the students’ key competencies of Managing Self, Relating to others, Participating and Contributing, Thinking, Using language, symbols and texts.
3. They will be provided with a safe emotional and physical environment
4. Individuals strengths, weakness and interests are developed
5. The learning environment is positive and encourages both students and their families to share in the students’ goal setting and decision making
6. Learning is fun and relevant to the students needs
7. Positive relationships are developed between students, staff and families

This develops a confident, connected and actively involved life-long learner.

Summary:
I am confident that the students at Hiwinui School are being prepared for the transition to secondary school and appreciated the honesty and openness of our former students when asked for their opinions.
“Baills and Rossi (2001) found that many rural children were confident and willing to ‘have a go’ at anything and usually had high self-esteem. They made the transition with little anxiety. Such a ‘have a go’ attitude appeared to be contagious among country children and created an environment similar to that of home, thus aiding transition.”
A Canadian study (Walsh, 1995) also found that rural school which reduced students feeling of isolation and alienation when they moved from primary school.
Involvement in sports, arts and other activities correlate with academic success and building confident and socially aware students.
I would strongly endorse the findings of Baills, Rossi and Walsh as I believe that the Culture, and Values at Hiwinui School support the Year 8 students to transition smoothly to the secondary school of their choice.
Unfortunately the biggest barrier for this research has been getting the staff at secondary schools to give me time to discuss this issue. I was most grateful to those that did.

What I heard was that the two main issues for secondary schools are;
1. Immature boys
2. Parents being over protective and not allowing their young ones to take responsibility for their own actions, or in some cases the lack of.

Recommendations:
1. To put in place a strong transitional programme for year 8 students throughout their final year at Hiwinui School
2. To prepare a Handbook for Parents and Students transitioning to Secondary School to be taking home at the end of Term 4.

Acknowledgements:
I would like to acknowledge the Ministry of Education for supporting Principals and Providing Sabbaticals.
I appreciate the Hiwinui School Board of Trustees allowing me to have this time away from school. It has been both professionally stimulating and personally refreshing and rewarding. To Bruce Pearson the Board of Trustees Chairperson, your support of both me and our team during this time has been much appreciated.
I have had the time to go into other schools and businesses and ask the questions which too often are put on the ‘back burner’.
To the honest and very mature ex Hiwuni Students, I was delighted to hear our core values of ‘respect and honesty’ still coming through. I am grateful to Jo Gibbs who stepped into ‘my shoes’ during my absence to lead the school in such a professional manner. To my loyal and hard working staff who continued on – thank you.

Transition Programme for Year 8

Having spoken to both Students and Staff from various secondary schools, Hiwinui School can now put in place a purposeful programme that is going to help students from our school make a confident and successful transition to the school of their choice.

I have looked at what a Year 9 student should be able to do at the beginning of Year 9 and put together a programme for the Year 8 Teacher at Hiwinui to work through in order that our students leave ready to fully participate emotionally, socially and physically at the secondary school of their choice.

Handbook for Parents and Students Transitioning to Secondary School
2013 / 14

This booklet has been put together to help both students and their parents prepare for the next step in the life of a year 8 student.

The comments made are not for, or about a particular secondary school but generalisations which are offered with the best intentions possible to make the first few weeks of secondary school event free.

By the end of 6th grade Student “A” will have read the equivalent of 60 whole school days. Student “B” will have read only 12 school days. Which student would you expect to have a better vocabulary? Which student would you expect to be more successful in school...and in life? (Nagy & Herman, 1987)

“Beginning a new school year can be as exciting as beginning a good book”

Appointments:
Try and make dentist and doctors’ appointments for after or before school. If your appointment has to be during the school day get written permission from your parents and check where you sign out from school and then sign back in from.

Assessment:
Right from day 1 you are beginning to work towards major qualifications so make it your business to find out what assessments are coming up and when parent interviews and reports take place at your school. Education is a partnership and it is really important to have your parents fully informed and then they are able to support you and your leaning.

Attendance:
You are required to attend every day. Full attendance ensures greater success and establishes a good work ethic.

Board of Trustees:
Your Board of Trustees is elected just the same as that at primary school. The only difference is that there is a student’s representative on the Board of Trustees at secondary level. Parents step forward and get involved, it is a very rewarding experience and keeps you informed.

Bullying:
Bullying is harassment and will not be tolerated anywhere.
There are three main forms of bullying:
1. Physical – Doing something hurtful to someone or something
2. Verbal – Saying or writing something that is hurtful
3. Emotional – Doing any of the above that hurts someone feelings
Bullies can only succeed when bystanders stay silent, if you see bullying speak up and tell someone.
Your school will have good guidelines to follow, start by talking with a friend, your form teacher/year dean or the schools guidance councillor.
Parents if you suspect your child is being bullied don’t hesitate to seek help from the school.

BYOD: (Bring Your Own Devise)
Each school have their own policy on this. But remember if you take a device to school it is your responsibility. Make sure it is named. Don’t lend it to others. Only use it for what it is intended.

Canteen:
Most schools have a canteen – they cost!
Get yourself organised and make your lunch the night before and save your money.
Remember to always carry water with you and drink plenty.
A canteen should be used as a treat.

Cell phone and I-Pods:
Each school will have their own policy on this. But remember if you take a device to school it is your responsibility. Make sure it is named. Don’t lend it to others. Only use it for what it is intended.

Contact Details:
Make sure that the office always has your current address and contact numbers.
As parents if you are off shore or away make sure that during that period of time you have let the office know who your child is with and what those contact numbers are.

Cyber Safety:
If you are old enough to own a device you are old enough to take responsibility.
Only send or up-load constructive messages
Don’t write hurtful messages
Don’t write hurtful messages about other people
Get permission before publishing someone else’s photo or work
Don’t give someone else your access code or passwords
If this happens to you get adult help immediately from either your parents or the school (Forms Class/ Year Deans)

Emergency Procedures:
Each school will have slightly different procedures, but what ever happens the school will take the best care that they can of your child. Please refrain from ringing the school in the event of an emergency – the school will contact you when they can.

Extra Curricular Activities:
Encourage your child to participate in sporting and cultural activities but remember everything involves a cost. Talk with your child and plan activities around a budget. This includes sports and music lessons.

Hair:
Check out your schools policy and make sure that you stick by it. Most schools do not allow unnatural colours or extreme fashion styles so be warned.

Health Services:
Public Health Nurses are available at most secondary schools for students. Find out when they are in attendance at your school.
Mobile Dental Units will also be in attendance at most secondary schools once or twice a year. Students enrolled with this service will be notified of their appointment usually from the main school office

Homework:
There is ample evidence from research that homework increases learning and achievement, especially in literacy and numeracy.
Homework is just that. Work to be completed at home by the student not the parent; however it is a great opportunity for parents to see what their child is doing at school and a time to give praise, support and encouragement.
Homework helps:
- Develop responsibility
- Develop self management and organisation skills
- Extend the skills and content learned at school during the day
Parents can help by:
- Having a set time and place for homework to be done
- Keeping the area quiet
- Removing distractions during this time – TV, Phones
- Giving praise and showing an interest in what they are doing

Independence:
Please parents make sure your child is responsible for their own learning and this includes preparation to and from school and making wise choices. You need to be part of this but don’t cover up for your child they need to be standing on their own feet by now.

Jewellery:
Most schools allow a wrist watch to be worn and a pair of plain ear studs. But you must check with your school policy so that you don’t cause yourself any grief

Late to School:
If for some reason you are late for school make sure you know what to do. Ring and let the office know you’ll be late and then on arrival you’ll need to sign in – start at the front office if you are not sure where this is.

Leave:
Most secondary schools have a zero tolerance of students seeking leave for special occasions / holidays.
Lockers:
Check to see if the school you are attending have ‘Lockers’. Those schools that do, you usually have to rent/pay for the use of them. BUT it prevents you having to carry around a really heavy bag all day.

Lost Property:
Make sure that everything you take to school is named. You are responsible for your own gear. If you loose something go back to where you last had it. If there is a teacher present tell them and then go to the main office and report it missing/stolen. (If your school has a different system make sure you know it)

Money:
If you need to take money for something to the office you put the money in an envelope with your Full name, Form Class, The Amount being Paid and What it is for.

Relationships: “Happiness is being accepted”
“A faithful friend is the medicine of life” – Aprocypha 6:16
Remember to:
Respect others
Treat them as you want to be treated
Listen to them and don’t share what they have told you to others
Keep your promises
Be loyal and stick up for your friend when the going gets tough
Be honest and be yourself
“Your most important decision is who your friends are”

School Donations:
The Board of Trustees at each school will set a donation fee to be charged annually. These donations are tax deductible and are a real necessity for schools to make ends meet.

Stationery:
Some schools will send a stationery list to you others, will hand it out on the first day. Check where you can get your stationery from and when it is required by. For a lot of schools you can buy your stationery on-line or some of the major Stationery shops have a list for schools available at the door – e.g. Warehouse Stationery
Make sure on day 1 you have a book to write in and a pen and pencil at least.

Take home work components:
In most schools subjects where there is a take home component like Art, Technologies –food, wood work and metal work – there is a cost attached and students do not get to take their projects home until they are paid for.

Timetable:
Make sure as soon as you are given your subject / school timetable get it copied several times so that you can have a copy in your School diary,( if your school doesn’t have a diary – get your own) one on the fridge at home and one in your room.

Transport:
If you are catching a bus to school where are you going to catch it? Ask around and watch. Remember that while you are on the bus your schools code of conduct is still applicable. Remember if you are offered a ride by an older student think – do they have a full licence, am I making a wise choice. Most schools do not allow students who drive to school to take passengers in the car with them

Uniform:

Wear your uniform with pride. Wear it correctly and make sure it is clean and at all times worn correctly.

“Happiness is being accepted”

“Attitude is everything”
